Ice breakers

These are designed to engage the imagination, reveal something about the responder, facilitate laughter, and help people feel comfortable.

- What kind of art moves you?
- Has a piece of art ever caused you to cry? Why? (Movies count.)
- What was your first bike and how did it make you feel?
- What is your favorite movie and why?
- What is your favorite tree and why?
- What is your favorite season and why?
- Describe your best memory from winter?
- Describe your best memory from spring?
- Describe your best memory from summer?
- Describe your best memory from fall?
- What is your first memory of being creative?
- What is your favorite creative thing that you've made?
- Who is your favorite artist and why? (Show a picture or look them up on the internet if you have time.)
- Describe what the person next to you is wearing in the most poetic terms possible.
- If time and money was no object what creative project would you do?
- Which person would you like to go back in time and meet?
- What is your favorite music and why?
- What do you think God's favorite music is?
- Show a picture from the Hubble telescope and ask people what God might have been thinking when he created that celestial body.
- Ask everyone to describe what kind of new animal they might create if God gave them the opportunity.
- Ask everyone to describe what kind of new plant they might create if God gave them the opportunity.
- What do you eat when you want comfort?
- What is the coolest bug God made? (Look up pictures on internet, if time.)
- Where would you go if you could fly?
- What's the longest distance you've ever driven and why?
- What bones have you broken and how?
- What is the nicest thing anyone has ever said to you?
- What is the most inspiring thing anyone has told you?
- What words do you live by?

- When I grow up, I want to be...?
- What did you want to grow up to be when you were little?
- What was your nic name and explain why?
- Pass around a bowl of M&Ms and after they've taken some (without eating) explain that they have to share an interesting fact about themselves for each candy they took.
- Describe your favorite desert.
- If you could learn a new skill, what would it be?
